Introduction

It is very common to open that door and find a child holding a box of cookies, or chocolates selling them to you in order to raise funds on a project. With that box of cookies, it might be accompanied with a letter, an Eagle Scout fundraising letter. This letter is used to inform the recipient on a project undergoing and requires funds. With this letter the project is described and also the amount to be raised in the project.

Through this letter, a scout member is able to raise more funds through this initiative. So next time that adorable young Eagle scouts member knocks at your door, do not ignore it but instead open it with receiving and giving hands, you might be helping someone in the smallest way you can think.

Eagle Scout Fundraising Letter Tips

Useful tips on Eagle Scout fundraising letters

If you are in scouting, helping out is part of your agenda. So when it comes to those projects you cannot afford you would probably need to hold a fundraiser. You would probably write letter to potential donors looking for money. While this letter you need inform on the project that the eagle scouts is going to be raising funds for. With a bit of help from the following pointers, you will be ready to write a perfect letter.

- Identification – make sure when you start writing this letter to you donor you specify the name of the Eagle Scouts group needing the funds, the need of the funds and also the amount required for donation.
- Benefits – depending on why you need the funds from the fundraiser you need to explain how it will benefit the Eagle scouts movement, the scouts and also the community at large. With these informative details, you will be able to steer the donors mind towards the donation of funds.
- Personalize – a donor is also a human being so when you get right down personal with them, they will understand the message. Make them see the objective though of the fundraiser, be emotional, get deep into these feelings.

Dear Donor:

My name is Brenda Mumo. I am a girl's scout with troop from Kenya.

We, the Eagle Scout group would like to announce that we are holding a fundraiser on 19th August for the community fundraiser of cleaning equipment's.

These equipment's will be used to clean our city and make it a better and safer place. Each scout will have a duty of cleaning and also will have his or her own cleaning equipment. To finance this we need your help.

This will be a great project that you as a parent/donor can join in and do something. As a donor you are required to donate a minimum amount of 2,000 shillings. This will enable the purchasing of the equipment.

Thank you for supporting our community and also the scout movement.

Sincerely,

Brenda
